First Prize
Kate P. Case – "The Inspiration and Persuasion behind PEPFAR"
In 2003, President George Bush authorized PEPFAR (President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief), a $15 billion initiative to fight the global war on AIDS/HIV. This paper analyzes the many moving pieces that were at play in the passing of this legislation, one of the most costly humanitarian efforts to date.

Second Prize
Alexander E. Alonso – "Positive and Negative Ramifications of Caffeine Consumption"
Caffeine has both positive and negative effects on the body and its systems. This paper informs readers of some of the benefits, as well as risks, associated with caffeine consumption.

Third Prize
Daniella Hernandez – "Aggression inside a Virtual Reality"
This paper, containing original research, analyzes the aggression that is found in many virtual reality settings and the effect that it has on children and their personalities.
