ENGLISH

Focus on Literature
B.A. Degree

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES AND RELATED OCCUPATIONS: Graduates from this program are qualified for certain positions in teaching, public relations, editing, reporting, copywriting, writing, and business. They may also choose English as a base for graduate study in language, literature, journalism, public relations, librarianships, business, law, and medicine. In these cases they should be careful to include the prerequisites for such study as specified by the graduate schools they are considering. English is one of the most highly recommended pre-professional majors, especially for areas like law and business. Students who have begun their training with a view to a teaching career should consider alternatives.

EDUCATIONAL QUALIFICATIONS: For those interested in teaching, at least a fifth year of graduate work is required.

JOB OUTLOOK: Job opportunities for teachers over the next 10 years will vary from good to excellent, depending on the locality, grade level, and subject taught.

ENTERING SALARY: The National Association of Colleges and Employers reports that for Spring 2006 the national wage level average for those with a Bachelor's degree in English Language & Literature was $31,204 per year.

The Pacific Union Conference entering wage level for credentialed teachers in 2006 ranges from $39,748 to $49,175 depending on the area of employment.

In 2005, the average entering salaries for credentialed teachers in the Inland Empire begin at $39,618. Those with a Master's degree and more experience an average of about $70,000 a year.
