

PRE-LAW
Sample Course Curriculum Check sheet

There is no specific pre-law major. Law schools do not require or encourage such a major. Students planning a legal career may pursue the major of their choice. Those most commonly chosen are History, Political Science, English, Speech, Journalism, Business, Philosophy, sociology, and psychology.

In the course of fulfilling requirements in their major fields, pre-law students are urged to include as many of the following courses as possible.

	Units	In Progress	Completed	Notes
General Courses:
Introduction to Law (PLSC 225)	2-4
Advanced Expository Writing (ENGL 304)	4.0
The Construction of American Political Life (HPSC 274)	4.0
Laws, rights, & Revolutions (PLSC 316)	4.0
U.S Constitution (HIST 430G, 430H)	8.0
Persuasion (COMM 328)	4.0
Law and Society (HIST 432S)	4.0
Logic (PHIL 208)	4.0
Math & Computing:
Introduction to Information systems (CPTG 104)	4.0
Introduction to Statistics (MATH 251)	4.0
Behavioral Sciences:
Social Psychology (PSYC/SOCI 304)	4.0
Psychology and Law (PSYC 488B)	4.0
Business & Economics
Financial Accounting (ACCT 211)	4.0
Business Law I, II (BUAD 381, 382)	8.0
Principles of Economics (ECON 254, 255)	8.0

Pre-Law Club: Plan to join the Pre-Law Club, which is a university wide sponsored organization. Contact Jeff Dupee in the Department of History, Politics & Society OR Wally Lighthouse or Gary Chartier in the School of Business.